

CENTER FOR VETERINARY HEALTH SCIENCES Friday Bit for Alumni and Friends

LOOKING GOOD, TEAM »

If you're a clinician at the Veterinary Medical Hospital at OSU, you have a fan following. Lately, (pretty much all the time, really) we receive grateful client love notes. Just in case you're asked for ways that clients can help put words into action, here's a smattering of top priority needs that will help us share the love.

- Anesthesia: #1 priority - Multi-parameter monitors (need four) - $8,676 each
- Small Animal Surgery: #2 priority - OR lights for minor surgery room - $10,000
- Equine Ultrasound: #1 priority - $50,000-$75,000

Not to worry, the list of need/wants is long, long, long so there's no chance of running short on opportunity. RDVM's, you might have some clients who want to share ♥ with your alma mater. Did you know we have a dedicated line just for you? Ring us at 866-654-7007.

THERE'S SOMETHING NEW ABOUT ONE OF OUR FAVORITES »

The Godfather is back.

Roger J. Panciera is at Stillwater Medical Center rehab, Room 414. He's getting a workout. Monday-Friday visitation begins at 4:00 p.m. Saturday mornings are busy with therapy sessions but the way is clear for a visit around 11:00 a.m. or so. Depending on his PT/OT progress, his stay might be 14 days (or more). Keep sending mail to 623 Ranch Drive, Stillwater, OK 74074. Word. He's getting more like his 'old' self every day so prepare to duck and cover. Quick march to SMC.

It's Friday. Lest you forget how much I ♥ my job, here's a pic of two, um, (donkeys?) to make your Friday happy.

GIVE and BE change.
