

FRIDAY BIT - 24 JANUARY

One Health is the idea that the health of people is connected to the health of animals and our shared environment.

When we protect one,
we help protect all.

» How We Protect »

It's still January, so let's begin with a thank you for... What you do and who you are as a veterinarian.

- Veterinarians protect countless humans and animals from zoonoses.
- Ensure animals can supply vital meat.
- Save the world billions through preventing, treating disease.
- And so much more.

Because all life forms are connected, understanding the One Health Initiative in combating foodborne illness saves lives and revenue. Watch for the class of 1963 Distinguished Lecture coming to Fall Conference, Nov. 5.

Thank you for your service as veterinary alumni of CVM.

Monument Man

Many of you remember the late Dr. Duane R. Peterson, professor and architect of the hand-illustrated anatomical charts. These amazing charts have been preserved digitally in OSU Library and of course, are considered CVM monuments. To view these visually stunning charts visit Special Collections. You're welcome.

HELP! Needed

CVM hosts Career Day for students and employers, November 7, 2020. Save-the-date and visit the CVM Mega Booth during OVMA to submit your hiring interests to Sharon. We help supply leaders ready to grow in expanding veterinary environments. Visit the Career Day page at our website for more info. Because, an orange education does matter.

Norman Forecast

Chance of orange. Join us at the 2020 OVMA Conference hosted by the Oklahoma Veterinary Medical Association on January 23-25, 2020. The convention will be held at the Embassy Suites Convention Center in Norman, Oklahoma. The OSU College of Veterinary Medicine is waiting to greet you at our mega booth. Stop by the alumni booth for that chance to win some swag in your favorite colors. For more information, contact Sharon at 405-612-5359 or sworrel@okstate.edu
