

Congratulations, Dr. Hanzlicek!

Congratulations to Dr. Andrew Hanzlicek on his recent promotion to associate professor in the Department of Veterinary Clinical Sciences and his appointment to the Joan Kirkpatrick Chair in Small Animal Medicine.

"Thanks to a generous donation from the Joan Kirkpatrick Foundation and matching funds from Mr. T. Boone Pickens, our small animal internal medicine service is positioned to continue to grow to be one of the most advanced and versatile in the country," said Hanzlicek. "It will enhance our abilities to treat small animal patients, teach veterinary students, and perform high quality clinical research."

Hanzlicek, a board certified veterinary specialist in small animal internal medicine, has been on faculty since 2010. His research interests focus on small animal infectious disease, hematology and coagulation.

Groundbreaking Surgery

Drs. Ryan Baumwart and Andrew Hanzlicek recently performed a first-time procedure here at OSU's Veterinary Medical Hospital. Assisted by Dr. Daniel Hogan from Purdue University College of Veterinary Medicine, Baumwart and Hanzlicek successfully treated Marley (full story with short video).

Only 3 Weeks Left to Vote

Dr. Roger Panciera ('53), Emeritus Professor, has been nominated for the Cattle Production Veterinarian Hall of Fame. Co-sponsored by the Academy of Veterinary Consultants, the American Association of Bovine Practitioners, Bovine Veterinarian, Merck Animal Health and Osborn Barr, the award recognizes one beef veterinarian and one dairy veterinarian who have made lasting contributions to the profession.

Only AVC and AABP members may vote until August 6, 2016. Members may vote online or during the organization's summer conferences. Dr. Panciera has been nominated in the beef category. You can read his bio and vote at <http://www.avc-beef.org/>.
