House Officer Seminar

Cory Anderson, DVM, will present "Accessory Sex Glands and Pathologies in the Stallion" on Thursday, April 16, at 8 a.m. in Room 002C at the Veterinary Medical Hospital. Dr. Anderson is a theriogenology resident mentored by to go above and beyond to help others. She is friendly, outgoing, and brings an infectious smile to work every day despite the pressure and stress of her daily routine. Brenda's genuine care for all faculty, staff, and students is an example for all to follow.

- Jennifer Jackson, senior lab technician at OADDL, is always dependable and willing to go out of her way to ease workloads. She has a great work ethic and lights up any room. Jennifer works in both molecular and serology departments, which means there is double the workload. She wears many hats, never complains and continues to focus on fixing the immediate problem.
- Anna Teague, admissions coordinator in the Dean's office, has spent the last few months working diligently on everything it takes to select the class of 2024. From reviewing hundreds of applications, to organizing tours and admissions interviews, to working with the selection committee, Anna has been a rock star!

Dr. Reed Holyoak. The recorded lecture will be available on Moodle in the course VBSC 6710.
