

Net Vet Weekly - July 27, 2020

Veterinary Hospital Re-Opens during COVID-19

The Veterinary Medical Hospital is now accepting appointments for non-emergency cases.

Curbside admission and discharge protocols, social distancing and proper PPE are still in place. Read more at Veterinary Hospital Expands Services.

All COVID-19 related information can be viewed in detail on the College of Veterinary Medicine website at COVID-19 Updates.

July Employees of the Month

Jordan Anderson

Amy Hoyt

Lucy Kershaw

Congratulations to the 2020 July Employees of the Month!

- Jordan Anderson, grant manager in McElroy Hall, does a great job for

Veterinary Student Parasitology Awards

Congratulations to Dr. Kathryn Duncan and Kellee Sundstrom on winning awards at the Association of American Veterinary Pathologists Student Competition! Read the full story at AAVP Student Competition.

Small Animal Internal Medicine Locums Needed

The Veterinary Medical Hospital is seeking small animal internal medicine locums for a minimum of one week stints with longer, repeat service welcome. We offer a very competitive stipend. Interested parties should contact Dr. Daniel Burba, head of the Veterinary Clinical Sciences Department, at dburba@okstate.edu or 405-744-8469.

House Officer Seminar

Jane Park, DVM, will present "Surgical Diseases of the Thoracic Cavity" on Thursday, July 30, at 8

the veterinary college. Her job requires a variety of skills and responsibilities. She manages a broad portfolio very effectively by being a problem solver, understanding the processes and data, and communicating. Jordan is an excellent communicator, responsive when people have questions or need something done. We are fortunate to have a person with her skills in that position; her professional growth is exceptional and continual.

- Amy Hoyt is a lab manager at the Oklahoma Animal Disease Diagnostic Laboratory. A sweet person, Amy has a radiant smile. She has helped in all areas of the COVID-19 testing while still successfully managing the serology lab. She is a true joy to work with.
- Lucy Kershaw, administrative associate at the Veterinary Medical Hospital, is responsible for the clinical year student schedule. When COVID-19 hit, Lucy spent countless hours rearranging students' schedules. Externships, offshore student schedules, and the incoming class of 2021 schedules all had to be rearranged. Lucy endured unhappy students and faculty and many late evenings to complete the job. She listened to every student or faculty concern and did her best to accommodate.

Publication

Ridpath, JF, Fulton, RW, Bauermann, FV, Falkenberg, SM, Welch, J, Confer, AW: Sequential Exposure to Bovine Viral Diarrhea Virus and Bovine Coronavirus Results in Increased Respiratory Disease Lesions: Clinical, Immunologic, Pathologic, and Immunohistochemical Findings. Journal of Veterinary Disease Investigation, 32: 513-526, 2020.

a.m. in Room 002C at the Veterinary Medical Hospital.

Dr. Park is a small animal surgery resident mentored by Dr. Danielle Dugat. The recorded lecture will be available on Moodle in the course VBSC 6710.

Getting to Know You

Brianne Taylor, DVM, MS, is an assistant professor in the Department of Veterinary Pathobiology. Originally from Scottsdale, Arizona, she earned her BS in Microbiology, MS in Toxicology, and DVM degree from Colorado State University. She completed an anatomic pathology residency and earned a second MS degree in Veterinary Pathobiology from Texas A&M University. Her research interests include equine pathology and infectious diseases in all species.

Brianne enjoys spending time with her husband and their many animals, horseback riding, hiking, and being outdoors. She is a huge music fan of all kinds, especially classic rock. She is a member of AAEP.

Favorite Quote: "This is the beginning of a new day. You have been given this day to use as you will. You can waste it or use it for good. What you do today is important because you are exchanging a day of your life for it. When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever; in its place is something that you have left behind...let it be something good." - Unknown Author

OSTATETV

*OSU College of Veterinary Medicine
308 McElroy Hall
Stillwater, OK 74078*

This email was sent by the OSU College of Veterinary Medicine through a partnership with the OSU Alumni Association. To change your Net Vet Weekly subscription, please email Derinda Blakeney.