

Net Vet Weekly - September 21, 2020

COVID-19 News

The Veterinary Medical Hospital is now accepting appointments for non-emergency cases. Curbside admission and discharge protocols, social distancing and proper PPE remain in place.

Online CE is available. For a list of all courses available, the cost, and where to register visit Online Professional Development.

COVID-19 testing on human samples at OADDL has ended. COVID-19 PCR testing has moved to a new facility. Read the full story at COVID-19 Testing at OADDL.

All COVID-19 related information can be viewed in detail on the College of Veterinary Medicine website at COVID-19 Updates.

September Employees of the Month

Adam Naff

Jennifer Rudd

Giselle Cino

Congratulations to the 2020 September Employees of the Month!

We're Growing!

The Department of Veterinary Clinical Sciences is building a robust Small Animal Emergency and Critical Care Service. We are seeking a second enthusiastic emergency small animal clinician. Interested parties can read more at join our team in emergency and critical care.

We are also adding a second house officer in the Zoological Medicine Service. We have an open internship position through July 2021. Interested parties can read more at Zoological Medicine Intern.

Free Equine Castration Clinic

We will host a free equine castration clinic on Friday, Oct. 2, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the large animal clinic. Space is limited. For details and to register now, visit Free Equine Castration Clinic.

House Officer Seminar

Evan Crisman, VMD, MMP, will present "Kidney Success and Failure: Clinical Relevance of Equine Renal Function and Disease" on Thursday, Sept. 24, at 8 a.m. in Room 002C at the Veterinary Medical Hospital.

- Adam Naff is an administrative support specialist in the Veterinary Clinical Sciences Department. He is known for being helpful and very prompt in replying to requests. Adam understands the complex demands on faculty members' time and the many responsibilities facing them. Most of all, Adam approaches each day with a fun and unique sense of humor.
- Jennifer Rudd, DVM, PhD, DACVM, is a lecturer/research scientist in the Veterinary Pathobiology Department. She has diligently organized her fall class balancing working from home and the office with two small children. Dr. Rudd has been an integral part of OSU's COVID-19 research and was recently featured on a podcast. She consistently gets things done on time, is extremely reliable and easy to work with, and does it all with a smile!
- Giselle Cino, DVM, PhD, DACVP, is an assistant professor and the new head of necropsy at OADDL. Her drive and commitment to veterinary pathology are contagious. Known for taking time to talk and really listen to people, Dr. Cino is a great teacher, cheery and a great boss to work with. When approached about making changes, she takes time to make sure the change works for everyone involved.

Dr. Crisman is a first-year equine internal medicine resident mentored by Dr. Todd Holbrook. The recorded lecture will be available on Moodle in the course VBSC 6710.

Ranchers Thursday Lunchtime Series

Join our free series on cattle health this Thursday, Sept. 24, at 12:30 p.m. Dr. John Gilliam will present "Parasite Control." To register and receive the link, please visit Ranchers Thursday Lunchtime Series.

Take the Survey

Veterinarians, cattle producers and veterinary students are encouraged to take the Integrated Beef Cattle Program for Veterinarians Survey before Oct. 1, 2020.

The data collected will help drive the next steps of the Integrated Beef Cattle Program for Veterinarians.

Please take a moment now to take the survey at Integrated Beef Cattle Program Survey.

Fall Conference

With the ongoing pandemic, Fall Conference will be virtual. Participate from the comfort of your home or office Wednesday - Friday, Nov. 4 - 6, 2020. Register now at Fall Conference 2020.

Current OSU veterinary students, staff and faculty do not need to register as a separate link will be sent to you later.
